(2 years) programs. The college is committed to nurturing future legal professionals by combining academic excellence, ethical values, and practical learning.

About The Conference

The rapid transformation of society, governance, and technology has led to the continuous evolution of human rights and constitutional principles. Contemporary challenges such as digital surveillance, social inequality, environmental degradation, gender justice, access to justice, and democratic accountability demand a renewed understanding of constitutionalism rooted in human dignity, liberty, and equality.

The theme "Emerging Dimensions of Human Rights and Constitutionalism" seeks to explore how constitutional frame works respond to changing social realities while safe guarding fundamental rights and the rule of law. It encourages critical engagement with evolving interpretations of constitutional morality, judicial activism, participatory democracy, and the expanding scope of human rights in both national and international contexts.

This conference aims to provide an interdisciplinary platform for scholars, legal, practitioners, and academicians to discuss on contemporary human rights concerns and the dynamic role of constitutionalism in ensuring justice, inclusivity, and accountable governance in a rapidly changing world.
